

Islip, NY – The Islip Town Board recently honored Islip Town Safety Officer Patricia Wilson. Patricia noticed that co-worker Steven Vogt, who had just received numerous bee stings, was not acting himself and determined that he was showing signs of the initial onset of shock.

Patricia quickly contacted 911 and by the time Mr. Vogt had reached the hospital he was showing the full symptoms of anaphylaxis. Fortunately the physicians were able to administer the appropriate life-saving treatment and Mr. Vogt made a full recovery.

Pictured (left to right) are Councilman Steve Flotteron; Regina Duffy, Town Clerk; Supervisor Phil Nolan; Councilwoman Bergin Weichbrodt; Patricia Wilson; Councilman Gene Parrington and Councilman John Edwards.